

Energy Industry

Jones Walker represents clients involved in virtually every aspect of the energy industry—upstream, midstream, and downstream. We represent clients involved in power generation and mining and have handled complex energy transactions and litigation onshore and offshore.

Our clients range from multinational public companies to small independents and individuals. Among them are major producers, independent producers, joint venturers, MLPs, operators, pipeline companies, fabricators, service companies, refining and chemical companies, power generation and transmission companies, landowners, royalty interest owners, and financial institutions.

In 2007, we received the maximum rating—four blue ribbons—in an EnergyPoint Research survey of clients in the oil and gas industry. Jones Walker was one of only six firms in the country receiving the maximum rating.
